New Blue Stream Academy induction module launched

Blue Stream Academy, the Buying Group's approved supplier for online training, has added a unique and editable induction module to their GP Practice eLearning suite.

The new module is free to all current users and can be completed prior to an employee taking up their post. It provides proof of competence from day one of employment and can lead into more in-depth training as and when required.

This module is accredited by the Royal College of General Practitioners (RCGP) and is CPD certified.
