Excellence in Supporting Healthcare, ILM certificate aimed at non-clinicians

This exciting and newly accredited e-learning course is delivered by the PMA, and normally costs £295. It is based on the competency framework and career pathway and its aim is to build a workforce in which non-clinicians can develop confidence and skills that can be used in healthcare settings. All training activities relate to non-clinical functions enabling progression through the levels towards social prescribing and senior management roles.

If you are a non-clinician would like to apply, please contact the PMA for an application form: education@practicemanagersuk.org.

If you would like training support for your team then please do get in-touch – we look forward to hearing from you: WTI@lmc.org.uk.
